Jewish experts flew from this creek island to Tel Aviv early today with the proposal. Arab experts are flying to Cairo.

Two Bernadotte aides will accompany the Arabs and explain his peace plan to an Arab League meeting in Cairo tomorrow night.

(Edvard Kardelj is vice-premier of Yugoslavia, Milovan Djilas is minister for Montenegro, one of the Yugoslav states, and Lt. Gen. Alexander Rankovic is minister of the Interior.)
The second paragraph of the resolution charged Yugoslavia with a hateful policy toward Russia and said Soviet representatives were mistreated in Yugoslavia.
The communists did not call for specific sanctions against Tito, war-time leader of Communist partisans and for a long time one of the most trusted followers of Premier Joseph Stalin of Russia, and his supporters. But it did call upon the "healthy core" of Yugoslav Communism to "bring its leaders to see the error of their ways."

If the Cominform action should result in a complete break of Yugoslavia with the Russian bloc, it would be the greatest victory the western powers yet have won in the "cold war" against the Soviet union.
But the Cominform appeal to the "healthy core" of Communism was seen as an overt appeal to Yugoslav Communists to overthrow the Tito government. It was believed here that Tito is firmly entrenched, and that any revolt against him would be very difficult.

Record Surplus Shown By ALC

Livestock Coop Meet Gets Enthusiastic Sendoff

Net surplus of $27,037 in the business year of 1946-47 is the largest the Alberta Livestock Co-Operative has ever experienced, it was reported at the annual meeting today.

This was revealed in the report of president Hugh W. Allen, as the eighth annual meeting of the ALC opened in the IOOF Hall.
The convention will continue through Monday and Tuesday, and about 30 delegates are attending from all parts of the province.
Mr. Allen's report termed the past business year "very satisfactory" as to volume of livestock handled and as to net revenue.

VOLUME DOWN
"While the high totals of 1943-44 and 44-45 were not attained in volume, the increase in dollar value of all livestock placed the gross value of all handlings only slightly below the banner year of 1943-44," Mr. Allen stated.

His report explained further: "In 1943 the gross value of all handlings was over $23,600,000 and gross revenue of $11,500,000 was obtained."

In the past year with approximately $1,000,000 less gross value handled, there is a gross revenue of $13,500,000. While costs have risen almost as quickly as values the net surplus on the year's operations is the largest the ALC has yet shown."

Volume of cattle has been the largest in history with livestock sold on a constantly rising or producers' market.

Heavy Destruction Is Caused Nfld's Fishing Industry

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 28.—(CP)—Heavy destruction of cod fish traps, salmon nets and lobster pots were reported here yesterday following week-end gales and heavy rains that swept coastal towns and villages in northern Newfoundland.

The storm hit just as a heavy run of fish struck the coast, giving promise of a successful season. At Masgrave Harbor, the fury of the storm reached such heights that fishing stages and equipment were swept out to sea, causing heavy financial losses.

Eight Drownings Mar West Coast Weekend

SIRDAR, B.C., June 28.—(CP)—The very violence of an under-current which sucked five fishermen to their deaths in Kootenay Lake Sunday meant survival for the 12-year-old son of one of the victims.

The survivor, Edgar Hornselt, 12, was thrown from the spinning outboard motorboat when the undercurrent caught it, and was able to swim to shore.

His father, Henry Hornselt, 36, was pulled beneath the water with his companions, identified as A. Russell, 36, the latter's son Gordon, 21, both of Kimberley, John Kellman, 30, of Sirdar, and his playmate Buddy Annable, 10, of nearby Tye.

Sirdar is 35 miles southeast of Nelson.

TRAPPED IN CURRENT

Young Hornselt said the motorboat's occupants re-started its motor when the boat was 1,000 feet offshore. At this time the boat, trapped in the powerful undercurrent, began swinging crazily. He was thrown clear out as it continued to spin and finally capsized.

The survivor said the party tried to right the boat three times when the undercurrent was first felt. But the youngsters became panicky and caused the boat to upset. The men and boys aboard were dragged under the surface one by one.

His widow—picking up on a nearby beach—and two children survive Henry Hornselt, who lost a small daughter last December in the same waters.

LOST HOME

The tragedy proved doubly poignant for Mr. Russell's widow and two daughters. He was visiting Sirdar on holiday. He lost his home at Kimberley during the disastrous floods which sent Mark Creek on a rampage of destruction.

It was while waiting to obtain a house at Kimberley that he accepted an invitation to visit the home of fishermen on their fatal outing.

GRAND FORKS, B.C., June 28.—(CP)—Two men were drowned Sunday in the Kettle river near Grand Forks, 170 miles east of Vancouver.

John M. Harasimoff lost his life when his automobile plunged over a 210-foot cliff two miles north of Grand Forks. Another man and two women escaped, Harasimoff drowned after his head struck a rock.

FISHING MISHAP

At Rock Creek, 25 miles west of Grand Forks, George Anaschetz drowned in a fishing mishap. Anaschetz was fishing with two companions when the anchor of his boat caught in the river bottom, driving the nose of the craft under water. He drowned while swimming to shore.

At Robson, 60 miles northeast, 10-year-old Peter Holoboff was

The body was on a rock in rapids 15 miles below House River, a cove below police.

He came to Edmonton just previously to joining the force.

Services will be held from Connelly-McKinnley funeral home at 9:45 a.m. to Sacred Heart Church where the R. Rev. M. J. O'Grady will officiate. Burial will be in the family plot in the Edmonton Roman Catholic cemetery.

He is survived by two sons, Jim, of Edmonton, and Walter of White Rock, B.C.; two daughters, Mrs. J. LaVigne, Montreal, and Mrs. W. Brohman, Edmonton; nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

He saved from drowning by tugboat captain Gordon Sutherland. Capt. Sutherland dived in fully clothed when he heard the shouts of the boy's swimming companions.

Section Worker Drowns in Delacour

FREE FRENCH OFFICER

French Attache Here Marvels at Comeback

France has made a magnificent comeback from the destruction and devastation of the Second World War.

Jacques Humbert, commercial attaché for France at Ottawa, said here today that industrial production is almost up to 1938 levels.

Coal production, thanks to increased deliveries from the Ruhr, is 110 per cent over the pre-war figure with cement 120 per cent higher.

One remaining bottleneck, standing in the way of complete prosperity, is the adverse dollar situation.

Mr. Humbert said. Loans and aid from the Marshall Plan will ease the situation temporarily, but there must be an end to this some day, the French attaché pointed out.

France is therefore trying hard to pick up her export trade, particularly with Canada where her foreign trade is in "bad state of unbalance," he said.

Principle exports to Canada are brandies, wines and liquors. Indications are these exports will be up by 50 per cent this year over the years 1946-47, the trade attaché said.

Of Prime Public Interest

The royal commissioners investigating the child welfare situation in Alberta take a strange stand when they rule that hearing of the circumstances surrounding the adoption of the dead Conrad child should take place in camera.

It was natural and commendable that the commissioners should exclude the public from sessions dealing with the cases of some other children whose names had not been mentioned.

They held, quite reasonably, that no purpose could be served by the public revelation of facts which might embarrass or single out for humiliating attention any innocent child.

But the circumstances of the Conrad case are quite different. They do not fall even remotely into this category.

The Conrad child is lamentably dead. The Conrad case has been prominently before the public.

Moreover, it is a case of prime public interest because the people of Alberta are well aware that what happened or did not happen in connection with the adoption of this little boy might very well become the very pivotal point of the child welfare investigation.

There should be no secrecy in this matter because already rumors are flying in confusing ugliness, about the details of the case.

It is a cardinal principle of the science of public opinion that when the public is not told all the truth about a case which excites its interest, the public will begin to fill in the details for itself.

The commission is sitting, not to uncover facts for the government or the IOOE or for any individuals involved, but for the people and in the interests of all the people of Alberta.

In the Conrad case they want all the facts, not a strained or diluted version of them.

For, after all, it is the people themselves who must finally judge.

The commission does not keep faith with the people in keeping these facts a secret.

Good Advice on Polio

The incidence of poliomyelitis will be held to a minimum in Edmonton if everybody gives serious attention to the advice of the city's medical health officer.

Dr. G. M. Little has issued a clear and simple set of rules for avoiding the disease.

One should stay away from those who cough or sneeze, avoid kissing and the use of common drinking cups, keep the hands scrupulously clean and wage a relentless campaign against flies.

They Can't Have It Both Ways

The Indian affairs committee of parliament has done a first class job in reporting that the present Indian Act be "virtually scrapped" and that steps be taken to advance Canadian Indians from wardship to citizenship.

The fact is that if Canada had sat up nights trying to devise a bitterly vengeful fate for a conquered enemy the country could not have produced a more degrading imposition than the present Indian Act.

The reservation system and the treaty money and all the rest of it accomplish no more than to condemn Canadian Indians to pauperization and inferiority for all time.

It requires a man of exceptional character to rise above a system which tends to hold him down to a sort of sordid security in which he surrenders his ambition as the price of getting enough to eat and wear with practically no work.

Those Indians who have risen above this vicious system have demonstrated a fine capacity for citizenship and economic usefulness.

It is dangerous to become overtired from too strenuous exercise, to swim in polluted waters or court a chill by plunging into cold water while overheated.

Water and milk from any but most reputable sources should not be used.

These rules will not eliminate poliomyelitis, but they will minimize it. They are simple and easily observed.

If this good advice is seriously taken, the problem of the health authorities will be substantially reduced.

Certainly the new Indian Act, however it is framed, should incorporate as its cardinal principle the purpose of lifting Indians above the reservation instead of holding them down to it with specious promises of easy if degraded living.

The trouble with most of the efforts that have been made on behalf of the Indians is that they aimed at giving these native people an impossible mixture of both wardship and citizenship. They have proposed to make the Indian at once a full citizen and a sheltered ward of the state.

They cannot have it both ways. The two do not go together.

Apparently the Indian affairs committee realizes this fact. And the tone of the report shows a clear leaning towards citizenship rather than wardship.

It is the most enlightened document on the future of the Indians in Canada that has been written in this generation.

Canadian Artists Have Distinctive Qualities

We have in Canada a group of associations nicknamed the "learned societies." The economists, the historians, the mathematicians, and so on, stage their annual meetings at about the same time and place. The reason, of course, is that many of the same people are in several of the groups.

This year the "learned societies" met in Vancouver. Due to an overlapping of the Institute of International Affairs called off one of its sessions. That was a lucky break for some of us. For otherwise we would never have heard a fascinating talk by the dean of Canadian artists, Lawren Harris, given to the Historical Society.

Lawren Harris spoke in one of the fine new buildings of the University of British Columbia. His talk took 35 minutes. I thought to myself, "What a shame, what a terrible shame. Here is a great Canadian, telling a thrilling Canadian story of the birth of a movement of art to which all the people of Canada, yet less than a hundred people, mostly professors, get a chance to hear it."

Group Of Seven

Lawren Harris' talk was about the birth and growth of what has long since become internationally famous as "the group of seven."

This came into being around 1910. Although Lawren Harris himself does not say with sufficient clarity, the group came into being around himself as the moving spirit. They had no formal organization, in fact, never thought of themselves as a group in the beginning. But as they all found themselves fired by a vital flame, disputed, much less challenged. It was that Canadian artist should step out of the European tradition and look at the Canadian scene as through European eyes; they looked at all their hearers as well as eyes to catch the spirit of Canada.

The ancient book of wisdom says that a prophet is not without honor, save in his own country. I do not see how anyone

Smiles

"How you've changed! You used to have thick black hair and now you're bald. You used to have a ruddy complexion and now you're pale. You used to be a stocky man, but now you're thin. I'm surprised, Mr. Gordon."

"But I'm not Mr. Gordon."

"Oh! You've even changed your name!"

"Yes, sir," replied the woman, blushing. "I'm the new cook!"

"The bus was starting in the midst of a torrent of rain, when the conductor put his head inside and inquired: 'Will any gentleman get outside and oblige a lady?'"

"She can come inside and sit on my knee, if she likes," said a passenger, jocularly, and to his great surprise, in bounced a buxom woman who had appropriated the offered knee.

After a time the man got into a conversation with his burden, and asked her where she was going. On hearing her destination, he exclaimed, "Bless me, that's my house!"

"Yes, sir," replied the woman, blushing. "I'm the new cook!"

An official conducting a government survey called on Mrs. Jones and asked her what she did with herself.

"I keep the house clean, do the laundry, mend the clothes, and attend to the children," replied Mrs. Jones. "I also keep the housewife's occupation."

could hear the story of the birth and growth of a vital Canadian artist, not realizing also that an artist's life is not one of honor, save in his own country.

If one reads back at what Canada has done in the last 30 years or so ago about the previous unthinkable determination of Canada to be a nation and a nation distinctively Canadian contribution to art; if one notes that it was not till London critics began to take notice, but the Canadian artists need not feel too badly. It was not till Lincoln's immortal Gettysburg speech was read in London that it was recognized that Canada was a nation.

Late Tom Thomson

Lawren Harris is at his best in talking about that true son of the north, the late Tom Thomson.

That is, possibly, because most of the other members of the original group of seven are still alive, and that, incidentally, by death robbed the group of its most colorful character.

I think Canadian audiences, in thousands, would sit in rapt delight and listen to Lawren Harris talk about the "nature boy" of the Canadian northland.

The story I liked best was when somebody gave Tom a cheque and what happened when he went to two Toronto banks one after another. They told Tom he was not good enough to cash it. He got the money. Tom tore up the cheque in disgust as he thought it was just another proof of the city slicker's ways of defrauding honest men from the woods.

Beavers Becoming Top Farm Problem

Colony in Taimi District
Insists on Flooding Road

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, June 28.—Beavers are becoming No. 1 problem for farmers north of town. They build dams and flood the roads, hay meadows and good fields.

R. K. Blisner of Taimi district, 10 miles north of town, reports that on the land just adjoining his farm there is a colony of beavers in a small creek which they are damming, thereby raising the water to flood the main road in to town.

Every morning Mr. Blisner goes over to the dam and opens it to release the water. If he misses a day, the water is over the road, flooding 200 feet of roadway that he places, there some years ago to make the road passable, as it is over muskeg.

The water loosens the corduroy, some of the poles float off, others move around when travelers try to cross and without the corduroy the road cannot be used. Last year the flooding ruined a good hay meadow and this year it has spread to fields.

If Mr. Blisner misses three days the water is over the bridge, so he goes each day so he may have a road to travel on, as he and his wife are 81 and 75 and do not want to be isolated.

THESE BEAVERS

These beavers moved up from Beaver Flats, seven miles south-east, about four years ago, as they seem to be moving steadily north and west, but they are not well known.

MINISTERS CAMP AT SYLVAN LAKE

SYLVAN LAKE, June 28.—Camp Kananis, Presbyterian camp here, has been opened. Sixteen Alberta clergymen and their wives are enjoying a period of five days on the beautiful shores of Sylvan Lake.

Rev. R. A. Sinclair of Innisfail is camp director, and camp leaders are Prof. D. V. Wade of Knox College and R. McBeath-Miller of Edmonton.

People who are not menaced by beavers, think they should be allowed to dam pools, which could then be stocked with fish. But people who have had experience with beavers, say you cannot teach them anything. They do splendid work, but they do it their own way and just where they want it.

They build all the dams in all the wrong places, and there never has been a beaver dam here near private property that it has not had to be moved eventually because of the damage the beavers do.

Mill is Burned, But Men Save Standing Timber

DAWSON CREEK, B.C., June 28.—Forest fire at nearby Ground-burn destroyed the Wilson sawmill and dump there recently. A fire-fighting crew of 40 men using two D-6 and two D-7 caterpillar tractors cut a fireward around 50 acres of standing timber, saving an estimated 200,000 feet.

Much credit for this goes to Harry Harbour of the B.C. Forest Service, who directed operations. He was assisted by Ranger McQueen.

"He was bashful at first, but when he saw my brothers—and the baseball bat in my father's hand—he proposed immediately."

Two Fort Citizens Donate Indian Relics

FORT SASKATCHEWAN, June 28.—Dr. Douglas Leachman of the National Museum at Ottawa visited Fort Saskatchewan recently to receive collections of Indian relics donated to the museum by two Fort Saskatchewan men.

The relics, which include stone hammers, axes, knives, pipes and pestles, etc., were collected by Dr. G. Turner and Mr. C. R. W. Mager over a period of several years. All were unearthed in the immediate vicinity of Fort Saskatchewan.

Dr. Leachman was particularly impressed with one group of hand tools, which by their crude workmanship, indicate a very early period of Indian culture.

Some pieces of obsidian in the collections were thought by Dr. Leachman to have come originally from the Yellowstone Park area, and are an indication of the travelling and bartering undertaken by the Indians before the arrival of the white men.

VIKING DECLARES TILLING CHAMPION

VIKING, June 28.—The tilling match held under the auspices of the Elks' lodge proved a drawing card to farmers and townspeople alike. There were seven contestants who tilled about 40 acres on the Asa Burnham farm half mile west of town. Young Stan Formal was judged the champion tiller of this district, Harry Child second, and Frank Slavik third.

Judges were Barney Steffenson of the department of agriculture, and Mr. Atkinson, agricultural engineer from the Vermilion School of Agriculture. Several machine companies and elevator firms had displays of weed sprayers and machinery on the grounds.

Out of a possible 100 points in the judging: Stan Formal 85; Harry Child 82; Frank Slavik 78; Louis Petras 77; Bert Kinghorn 76; Burton Benson 74; Lee Chiswell 68. The village council declared a full holiday for the occasion. Foot races, picture shows and a dance wound up what was considered a very successful event.

Bus Overturns Close to Dawson

DAWSON CREEK, B.C., June 28.—A bus en route to Dawson Creek from Edmonton overturned two miles from here recently. A broken tie-rod was the cause of the accident. Six passengers and the driver, "Slim" Berg were shaken up but no one was seriously injured.

Scramble Starts for Joe's Heavyweight Boxing Crown

NEW YORK, June 28. — (AP) — Every breathing heavyweight with two arms and two legs headed toward Jacobs Beach today as the mad scramble started for the title to be vacated by Joe Louis.

Gus Lesnevich, 35-year-old reigning light heavyweight king who now is en route to London for a July 26 bout with Freddie Mills, appeared to be one key man in an involved situation.

Either Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati light heavyweight contender, or Jersey Joe Walcott, beaten 34-year-old challenger in Friday night's fight, will be the other.

As of now, Charles seems to have the inside edge, providing his manager, Jack Mintz, and the promoter can convince Joe Vella, Lesnevich's manager.

The Charles camp has bombarded boxing commissions from coast to coast with challenges to Lesnevich for the 175-pound title. Now that is all forgotten and as Mintz says "We want the heavyweight crown."

Charles, normally a 173-pounder, has lost only once in his return from war service. That loss was to Elmer Ray in his only Madison Square Garden showing. Charles later reversed that loss, knocking out Ray in the ninth round at Chicago May 7.

There is considerable doubt along the beach about public reaction to the crooked boxer's appearance. The crowd booed Jersey Joe through-out the early rounds of Friday's slow bout.

Sol Strauss, acting promoter of Twentieth Century, said he hated Lesnevich, Charles and Walcott as the leading contenders.

"After them you could put fellows like Joe Baksi, Leo Savoy and Bruce Woodcock," said Strauss. "But what we really want to do is to uncover some young talent."

Chairman Eddie Egan of the New York State Athletic Commission said no action would be taken, pending a formal notice of the champs retirement.

Then he probably "could declare the title vacant," he said. "No doubt, we would wait for some kind of a proposal for a licensed promotion."

Louis will get an estimated $250,000 of the actual gross receipts of $241,750. Walcott's slice will be about $125,000. Add to that the liberal cut from the movies, television and radio rights and the boys will have had a big night's pay for a fight that was one of the dulliest in history until the 11th round knock-out.

Sports Meeting
Sports representatives of the Confederation of Communities Leagues will meet in the USO Hall Monday at 8 p.m. The games scheduled for Monday will be postponed July 4.

Pat Walker Arrives Back For Run at Highland Games
Pat Walker was back on the main drag today and right ready to run in the 23rd renewal of the Highland Games July 1.

The long-stemmed track man from Vulcan, who currently campaigns out of Edmonton under the Polar Bear banner, flew from Winnipeg Sunday. At the week end he had clinched high jump honors in the Olympic trials staged at Sargent Park in the Manitoba capital, although his mark of five feet 10 inches was considerably shy of the standard necessary to qualify for the Canadian team.

In the only other event in which he entered—the 400 meter hike—Walker ran third and out of the money to Calgary's Ernie McCulloch.

And as the protégé of Gordon Higginson will spearhead a Polar Bear contingent of 42 in the high and gathering at the South Side Athletic Grounds Thursday.

Other headlines on the athletic card include George Sutherland of De Winton; Wayne Anderson, Sarnia; John Sturrock, Red Deer; Andrew Free, Sunnyside; Dan O'Neill, Meaford; and Pat Dorman from Thornbury.

Sutherland is a south-of-California farmer, who, at 44, is the oldest track and field competitor in the province. If not in Canada, he specializes in the weights and roster.

Joe Burns and Martell Come Down to Barr

Calgary Ace Wins Alberta Amateur Title

By Bert Greer

They're singing the praises of Joe Burns, provincial amateur golf champion, today, but they're forgetting another great champion—Burns Martell.

Sunday Duane, who digs his divots at the Earl Grey course in Calgary, defeated Burns 7 and 6 in the provincial final at Mayfair, but he will never defeat a gamer opponent.

What would have been more appropriate than to have the name of Burns Martell under that of his noted brother, Henry, on the coveted trophy?

But it wasn't in the cards. Burns, a guy with a withered arm, fought gallantly against Barr, the wind and slippery greens at the Mayfair course, but he lost.

But he didn't have sufficient resources to overcome the steady playing of the Calgary, a noted campaigner who never misses a trick and who has knocked on the door of the provincial championship in previous years.

Henry dominated the tournament for more than a decade, but he was not even an onlooker Sunday. His brother Burns fought valiantly to uphold the Martell name. Henry has gained the pro ranks and is a headquarter at the Highlands course.

POOR START
Burns downed the morning round, Burns grunted his teeth, took a firmer grip on his clubs and staged almost unhindered rally. He cut the Calgary's advantage to three holes at the sixth in the afternoon.

The four-hole spurt was the extent of Martell's comeback effort. He started "peeking" again, he handed the holes back in quick succession.

The turning point came on the 7th in the afternoon when Burns rallied with the trees on the right and permitted Duane to boost his ante to four. They tied the eighth and Barr took commanding lead.

The tenth was another blow to Martell. He was hit by the front edge of the green and Barr was in the bunker to the right. Burns proceeded to three-putt and lost another.

By the time Burns had reached the 12th (3-hole) Burns three-putted from 12 feet to lose the match. He went for his trophy.

Trailing Saturday, when his putter was as hot as a firecracker, Martell's putting instrument was as cold as a paraffin candle.

Saturday he eliminated Emerson Mack on the last green, due mainly to phenomenal feats on the putting surface, particularly the 13th, where he canned a 40-footer for a birdie three.

In the other semi-final Barr disposed of Bobby Carey 4 and 3 in a match that was tight until they reached the 12th.

TOUGH "NUT"
Martell found Mack a tough "nut" to crack. The former Calgary amateur champion outplayed Martell on the last green, but a sour putter let him down.

Former president of the Alberta Golf Association, J. Cameron, presented the prizes to Barr and Martell and Percy Herring, president of the Mayfair Golf and Country Club.

The other winners, who were consolation, Bill Hoar, who defeated Duane in the consolation, and Cameron, who defeated Burns in the consolation, were also present.

N. EDMONTON REGAINS JUVENILE BALL LEAD
North Edmonton broke a half game ahead of the juvenile baseball pack Sunday with a 10-8 verdict over Calder. And while Benny Klingensmith's nine regained the lead, Cloverdale bounced back to pull into a second-place tie with the west-enders.

Everybody got a hit as Cloverdale, the most improved team in the league in recent weeks, jumped on pitchers Jim Horvath and Harry Brody for 17 hits. The biggest inning Ed Howe's crew managed was a six-run fourth.

North Edmonton lowered the boom on Calder with three runs in the last frame. Bill Lockhart courted a triple in this sortie to drive in the winning tally. Mort Grotiak continued west end juvenile home-run race with a four-master for Calder in the fifth.

South Side and Maple Leafs wound up in a 7-7 tie in the third game of the day. The no-decision contest left Seena leading in the second division and Leafs in the cellar, with Calder occupying the fifth place.

FOUR DOWN AT TURN
Burns was four down at the turn in the morning, but he encountered trap and putter trouble. He slipped to eight down in the 18th, but pulled off a sensational birdie three on the 445-yard 17th, placing a low three-run six-hole lead on Burns.

A par gave him the 16th and he halved the 18th with pars. Burns made a birdie on the 19th, the second in the afternoon, but the Calgary's putter began to falter.

Burns moved right back into the picture by taking for a in a row. The Highlands star didn't follow through when he had Barr on the run, however. He played for a hook on the seventh, but the ball went straight as an Indian going home and Martell was stymied by the trees on the right. He attempted a spoon shot to the green, but wound up in the thicket.

THE NEEDED "LIFT"
That was the "lift" Barr needed. He lifted the green after that success and went to work on Martell like Joe Louis on his sparring partners.

Duane came close to winning the crown in 1939 when he had Henry Burns as his opponent.

Edmonton Eskimos exploded for six hits and five runs in the eighth inning Sunday night to down Calgary Purty 7-5 and salvage a single victory in their four-game Alberta Big Four Baseball League week-end series.

In a Sunday afternoon game, Calgary walloped the northerners 18-1, beating Tony Mack's pre-heat hurling and trounced the Eskimos 11-5 Saturday and 13-2 Friday.

Joe Kanik tossed shut out ball for Purty for five full innings, before Edmonton began getting to his right arm in the sixth when a single by Gene Percani, an error by Walt Gully, a double by Frank Morgan and a single by Earl Morgan brought in two runs. Eskimos had Kanik in trouble again in the seventh, but he retired the northerners after the bases had been cleared on three singles.

EXIT JOE KANIK
Five straight singles off Kanik in the eighth sent him to the showers and brought in three runs to tie the game. Then catcher Ken Samuels hit a home run.

Martell one down and three to go, but he had the home team in a jam. The tournament was termed a great success by both Cameron and Herring.

FAMED BALL SQUADS AT RENFREW TONIGHT

Kansas City Monarchs and House of David ball teams open a two-game exhibition series at Renfrew Park Monday night, starting time of tonight's contest being 8:00 o'clock.

They do it over again Tuesday at the same time. Both clubs arrived in the city Sunday night. They played in Sylvan Lake Sunday afternoon, packed close to 4,000 into the Camrose park Saturday, were away down in Medicine Hat last Friday.

They get around. Well and favorably known here it's close to 10 years since the Davids and Monarchs did their stuff for a Renfrew Park gathering.

Famed "pepper game" of the House of David team will be demonstrated, likely in the fifth inning.

Winning Harneymen Just Can't Go Wrong

Enjaian Stars as Cubs Win Two, 4-3 and 4-2

By Stan Moher (Bulletin Sports Editor)

When a team is losing it can't do anything right. When the dice begins to turn up seven the same aggregation can't do anything wrong.

Right now the Cubs can't do anything wrong. Sunday afternoon at Renfrew Park the once-upon-a-time doormats of the Big Four Baseball circuit nipped Calgary Buffaloes 4-3. A belated rally in the eighth inning, good for a pair of runs, turned the trick.

It marked the ninth time in their last 10 starts that the Harneymen packed one away in the trunk. The surge of the first two weeks has carried Manager Ray Enjaian's Ugly Ducklings—turned-Cinderellas to within striking distance of the floundering Eskimos.

Ray Enjaian At It Again

As he was last Sunday, when his grand slam homer battered Calgary Purty into defeat, San Francisco's Ray Enjaian was the white-haired boy again yesterday. Mind he had plenty of help from the usually reliable Greg McLeilan. Buff center fielder.

Enjaian came up in the eighth with Jack Bartlett perched on second, two out and the visitors still top dogs by a 3-2 edge. He faced Morrie Hawkey to center to score Bartlett and when McLeilan in trying to trap the ball on the bounce—allowed it to roll through his legs almost to the fence, Enjaian kept right on going to rack up his winning run.

Leo Sullivan, little righthander who returned to Cubs earlier in the month, out-pitched Jim Gibson and Jack Stover with a five-hit performance. Gibson, who had control, was out of there before the seventh inning rolled around.

Motormen Have the Habit

Saturday marked the second time in less than 24 hours that Cubs had tipped over the Buffs' apple. Saturday night they outgamed the Calgarys for a 4-2 victory. Manager Gibson sent slim Bob (Lefty) Brosseau to the mound in an effort to cool cut the rampaging Junior Braves.

Despite the fact that he had more than the usual amount of difficulty finding the plate the "teen-ager" from the coast of British Columbia had the trick had he not shot out of a pair of Cub pinch-hitters, Doug Stevenson and Ray Canapa.

Stevenson came off the bench in the fifth frame to hit for Clair Bailey and his slashing single sent the first Cub hit, drove Tony Chulia and Bartlett with a pair of runs good enough to knot the score at 2-2.

Canapa was thumbed off the pine in the eighth inning as a stand-in for Bartlett. He also tagged Brosseau for a single to chase Andy Cleveloch over with the winning run after which Chulia stole home with an insurance marker.

Morrie Hawkey handled the hurling chores for Cubs. He was in his best form of the season to date. Buffs got just five hits off him. Chulia's one-hundredth catch of Carlos Mori's pop-up in the first base bleachers in the sixth inning was the fielding feat of the Saturday tilt.

Harney and the Davids

Laurel Harney, Cub manager, was talking about his House of David experiences following Sunday's thrilling 4-3 conquest of Calgary Buffs.

"I didn't know a man could ache in every part of his body the way I used to," he stated. "Harney was putting the finger on the amount of travelling done by a touring club such as the one out of Benton Harbor, the frequently long hops by bus over what are as frequently poor excuses for roads.

Back in 1938 Harney played some 78 games with the bewhiskered beauties. "It was no picnic, believe me," he continued. The team would play a game, hurry out of their uniforms and into the bus because they might have a contest scheduled for the next day in a spot some 500 miles distant.

Somewhat a fellow was expected to get his sleep between towns, next day climb into a wet uniform all over again, shake himself 'loose' enough to do his stuff for another curious crowd, then hit the road again.

Mind you it wasn't always such a chore. For stretches at a time the hops weren't too long and the roads might be good. The Davids hit town in time to get a good night's rest.

It was a job of a different color under these circumstances.

They Thrive On It

For all the difficulties such longtime members of the House of David team as 'Doc' Tully, George Anderson and Dick Wykoff seem to thrive on the life.

Tully went off with the first team to hit the road back in 1918. Except while the war was on he has been at it since.

Anderson and Wykoff are 20-year men. Along with the 53-year-old Tully they stage the famed 'pepper game'. They've done their stuff from Texas to Alberta and in spots as far away as Honolulu.

Oddly Anderson is Australian by birth. There aren't too many from this part of the world mixed up in baseball. He came to Benton Harbor as a 10-year-old.

This season the Davids already have played more than 75 games. According to Manager Anderson they trained in Texas and opened at Corpus Christi in that state. For a month, while waiting for warm weather to come to the north, they toured and played the biggest state in the union.

In his time Anderson has travelled upwards of a half million miles as a member of the House of David.

Francis Thorpe Team Founder

Religious leader of the sect is Mary Purnell. She's close to 90 years of age. At one time she took a keen interest in the fortunes of the team. Anderson remembers that "she used to come to many of the games played at home."

Francis Thorpe founded the team in 1913 and for a long time managed it. People frequently ask if a player must belong to the sect to qualify for a spot on the ball club.

The answer, of course, is 'No.' Of the present cast only the 'pepper-game' trio of Tully, Wykoff and Anderson are out and out followers of Mary Purnell. Anderson has plenty of respect for the Kansas City Monarchs, their road opponents of the moment. "They're a fine bunch of boys," he guarantees.

As a matter of fact the generally younger Monarchs have been quite a handful for the lads with the beards. Last week, in Regina, the K.C. gang thumped Anderson and Co. twice running in as many nights.

The Monarchs, so advance notices have it, can run, throw and field in near major league style. Also they have good power.

Is there more to this baseball?

Precision Profits In Weekend Fastball

Precision Machine pitched handsomely from a quartet of fastball games played in the Kingway stockade over the week-end. Saturday they stampered the Moose herd every which way for an 8-0 win.

And Sunday the Machine gang hung a 6-0 whitewash on Norwood Legion.

Walk-Rites swamped South Side 14-1 in the second Saturday fixture and RCAF Jets had their turn to stamper Moose Sunday this time by a 5-4 margin.

Doug Herbert, Coe Houlihan and Bob Nault paced Precision Saturday with two hits each while Bill Onitschuk limited Moose to a pair of baseknocks. Sunday it was Joe Sereida clouting a brace in Precision's attack and Ted Kleibach hurling a two-hitter at Norwood.

Pitcher Ruth Hayes was nipped for three safeties as Walkers ran away with it all from South Side. Bubblers Ferrier and Isabel Whitley

Junior Baseball Breaks Blundering Records

By Dick Beddoes

There used to be a good deal of discussion in junior baseball circles as to why Mr. John Ducey wasn't smiling benignly on the Edmonton kids and taking them into the Renfrew fold when they graduated to senior age.

But those days are gone forever. Or so it seems.

The facts of the case have come plain—the juniors simply blunder too often. And while Mr. Ducey's contention that most of them would be as useless as the fourth wheel on a tricycle in senior competition may be unkind, it is still true.

Maybe Sunday wasn't a fair test of the baseball ability President Emery Callahan offers to the patrons of Clarke Stadium. The fielders had the wind and dust in their eyes most of the afternoon. But Kansas, South Side, CNR, and EAC broke all error records for a Sunday do-

North Side Wallops Cloverdale Club 6-0

North Side Legion soccer club is on its way again. Last year's semi-finalists completed mopping-up operations in Edmonton and district Saturday night, disposing of the hard-fighting Cloverdale team 6-0 at Clarke Stadium.

The victory brought an end to the Dominion Football Association playoffs here, and marked the third straight triumph for the North Siders.

In a league game Sunday Cloverdale turned in a 2-1 victory over the RCAF eleven.

As usual Legion dominated the play, and as usual Dave Gillings did most of the scoring. After Bob Graham dented the twine on a cross from Dave Peacock, Gillings took over the scoring assignment and marked up the other five goals.

Dave headed the ball into the net for the second and gave the Legion a 2-0 lead before the half-time whistle with a long hard shot. Jack Wiece provided the pass for the next Gillings effort. Dave split the upstarts again midway through the period and toward the end headed a beauty from about 22 yards out.

Airmen held a short-lived lead in the Sunday encounter. Tom Fifield booming in Harry Jordan's cross, but Tom Maines squared accounts with a beautiful effort. Charlie Styles slipped the ball to Hunter in the penalty area and he made no mistake with the winning kick.

Monday night North Side Legion will take on the junior Maple Leafs at the stadium. Legion will field the following team: Ness and Shaw; Dempster, Skidmore; Ross, Peacock, Campbell; Russell, Graham, Gillings, Thomas, Humble, Reserve Free.

Woodenface Bows To Giles Meikle

Giles Meikle, 5646 77th avenue, was the winner when the Bulletin's 'woodenface' competition was run off at Kitchener Park playground.

Young Meikle is 14 years old and a student at Mount Carmel school. Runner-up Dick Heim, 9848 76th avenue, attends King Edward.

The competition is in the stretch now with the week-up take place at Renfrew Park shortly. Woodenface will be at John Farina's tennis playground Monday at 4:00 p.m.

Tuesday the competition switches to Kitchener playground, 115 street and 160 avenue. Woodenface makes its last trip to a playground Wednesday, destination being King Edward Park, 81 street and 80 avenue.

Woodenface was hitting clothes against EAC, who aren't scaring anyone but themselves in the 1948 campaign. The Redies collected 13 lousy hits off Eric Wigeland with Colin Shaw and Doug Ringering nipping three each.

Stan Anderson of the RCAF tagged a homer in the third frame of the second game.

Line-scores: CNR 8-5 and Canadians took EAC for a 12-2 hayride. A half-dozen runs credited to South Side in the third more or less sent CNR Manager Lou Hilt home talking to himself. Elwood Shell and Don Simon held Marvin Miller's Seena nine to three hits, but they flavored their offerings with

Dr. Richard Pulls Net Singles Upset

Mrs. Pat Timmerman Takes Ladies' Singles Laurels

Dr. Hal Richard, veteran racquet wielder, Saturday knocked off defending champion Johnny Stott to capture the men's singles crown in the annual city tennis tournament.

Playing on the No. 1 court at Clarke Stadium, Dr. Richard prevailed at the expense of his doubles partner in a match which went the limit of five sets. Score was 3-6, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

At the same time English-born (Newcastle-on-Tyne) Mrs. Pat Timmerman was taking charge for the next 12 months in the ladies' singles section with a straight 6-2, 6-2 conquest of skater Phyllis Sutton.

The tournament was all but closed out by late Sunday afternoon. As Secretary Cal Holmgren made a final checkup she found that the finals of the mixed doubles and ladies' singles played. This event will be finished off today.

DEFEND DOUBLES CROWN

The Dr. Richard-Stott combination made a successful defense of their men's doubles laurels by turning back Bob Cameron and George Docherty in the wind-up, count being 6-1, 6-3, 4-6.

As result Richard-Stott became the first holders of the John Oliver Memorial trophy, put up for play this season under the auspices of President Stu Harris and his Edmonton District Tennis Association.

John Oliver made the presentation of the trophy to the victors.

Finals in other events resulted as follows:

Ladies doubles — Mrs. Sophie Mighall and Helen Wolfe def. Edna Kenwood-Bessie McAvoy, 6-3, 6-3.

Mixed doubles — Stott-Bessie McAvoy def. Cameron-Mrs. Mighall, 6-3, 6-3.

Bulletin trophy (closed) — Mrs. Irma McManus def. Mrs. Mighall, 6-3, 6-3.

Mitchell cup (closed)—Crockett def. Alf Ingal, 2-6, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

In winning the men's singles title, Dr. Richard fought commendably after being all but distanced in the early stages. Stott just breezed through the first set with the loss of three games but came the second set and he suddenly went wild as a hatter.

STOTT ERRED FREQUENTLY. He began to double-fault. As well his drives fell beyond the baseline or were caught by net. Wise enough to know that you don't look a gift horse in the mouth, Dr. Richard just let the carot-thrashed Stott make the errors as he came up even at a set apiece.

Stott slowed his game to get the third set under way. He was in charge all the way to run it out in nine games. At this stage the defending titlist seemed to have everything under control. However after the rest period Dr. Richard took charge to capture the fourth set without the loss of a game and then take it all with a 6-3 fifth set margin.

Mrs. Timmerman, wife of RCAF Wing Commander, was clearly Miss Sutton's superior in the ladies' singles final. She was away to the races by taking the first two

Prime Minister Shouts 'Nonsense'

King Irked Under Criticism During Prices Report Debate

By D'Arcy O'Donnell

OTTAWA, June 28.—(CP)—The Commons stopped a hurried drive toward prorogation Saturday to engage in a verbal slugfest on the report of the prices committee.

Charges and counter-charges were heard and at one point Prime Minister Mackenzie King angrily declared that John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre) was talking "absolute nonsense."

Diefenbaker had charged recommendations of the all-party committee had been tailor-made by the government itself.

"I ask the prime minister who it was who drafted or handed to certain members of the committee—certain government members—the recommendations that it was desired the committee should give."

DENIES CHARGES

He said there were by-elections in which the government lost and "pilgrimages" of Liberal members to Mr. King seeking relief from taxation. King, in turn, had taken Finance Minister Abbott to task for his budget policies.

At this point, King jumped to his feet.

"That's absolute nonsense!" he shouted. "I have never taken the minister of finance to task in my life."

While Diefenbaker drew fire from the government benches, Ralph Maybank (L—Winnipeg South Centre) roused Progressive Conservative members with charges that they had wanted the prices committee to bring in a "white-washed report."

Other speakers in the debate were Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto East), William Irvine (CCF—Carleton Place), Angus MacInnis (CCF—Vanouver East), Walter Kuhl (SC—Jasper-Edson), Cecil Merritt (UC—PC—Vancouver-Burrard) and E. D. Fulton (PC—Kamloops).

ADOPT INDIAN REPORT

External Affairs Minister St. Laurent told questioners asking when Canada would recognize the new Jewish state of Israel that the government wished to avoid taking action which might be misconstrued by the opposing parties in Palestine.

Members adopted a report recommending virtual scrapping of the Indian Act and adopted a bill authorizing the Manitoba government to expropriate any power projects in that province.

A short time was spent on the estimates of the revenue department.

ment, Revenue Minister McCann said he hoped to overcome the 18-month backlog in the assessing of income tax returns within the next year or two. His staffs have been increased by 2,500 to 11,300.

The prices debate was a re-portedly hot one. That report contained recommendations urging the removal of excise taxes and import controls imposed in last November's currency conservation program.

SAYS MERELY 'STALL'

Diefenbaker said that one of the committee's recommendations suggesting safeguards against profiteering was merely a "stall" because that power already was on the statute books.

"Not next year and not next session," he said, "but before the end of this session let the government do something about prices either on the basis of this report or on some other basis."

Maybank, vice-chairman of the committee, said the Progressive Conservative policy is clear. That party recognized that the labor market now is "tight." It wanted establishment of a labor pool. If such a pool was established then labor would be cheaper and costs would go down.

"That is all they have to offer," said Maybank.

Terror Campaign Hits New Peak in Malaya

SINGAPORE, June 28.—(Reuters)—Highest British political and military chiefs in Malaya conferred in Kuala Lumpur today to plan new operations against extremists whose terror campaign reached new heights over the weekend.

The Straits Times reported Sunday that between 4,000 and 5,000 guerrillas were making in the peninsula's jungles.

The Malaya government issued new emergency regulations threatening 10 years' penal servitude for anyone failing to report a terrorist.

Forty armed Chinese last night raided Kuala Krau police station at Mentakab, 55 miles northeast of Kuala Lumpur. The police beat off the attack and raiders took to the jungle leaving a trail of blood.

The Malay wife of a policeman was shot and killed and a Malay corporal wounded in the clash.

Gurkhas used grenades in a savage clash in which two terrorists were killed yesterday at Mahfu Bahr.

In Johore, three terrorists shot and killed a Chinese rubber tapper and severely injured a foreman Saturday night, bringing to a total of 13—all Chinese—those killed in Malaya since Friday.

HANDSHAKE TOO STRONG—HIS ARM IS BROKEN

AKRON, O., June 28.—(AP)—John E. Lowe, Sr., filed an $8,000 personal injury suit Saturday, claiming an extra strong handshake resulted in a broken arm and interfered with his employment.

Lowe's petition declared that "with deliberate disregard for Lowe's safety and well-being," Edward S. Smith "continued the pressure when called upon to desist and with a jerk broke the plaintiff's arm."

The petition said the handshake took place in a cafe earlier this month.

The GOP Convention Spends $5 Millions

Murphy Reports On City Hall

By Wm. "Spud" Murphy

While bourgeois bawling blast the administration about road conditions, lack of sidewalks, dusty streets and the mosquito nuisance, it is a pleasure to report on a civic department's outstanding achievement.

This department is little publicized. It was only in casual conversation at the week-end, with its publicity-shy Robert Christie, that I learned of the relentless advance to general efficiency made by the city's telephone system during recent years.

Here is the story: Back 1913 there were 7,900 telephones in service, and a total of 208 complaints were received concerning each telephone in that era.

SORE POINT
This lack of efficiency must have been a nightmare for the administration, a source of maddening irritation to subscribers, and a situation of joy to the reigning mayor and aldermen.

The administration started on a plan to eliminate the complaints. Slow progress was made if the beginning of the campaign and results were negligible in the first few years.

However, by 1924, there was a notable decline in the number of complaints. In that year there were 13,500 telephones in service and the complaint ratio had declined from 20.8 to 15 per instrument.

In the decade 1925 to 1934 the department's planning showed remarkable advance. In 1934, with 15,500 telephones in service, the ratio of complaints had declined to 3.4.

The downward trend continued until in Mr. Christie's opinion, the complaint ratio has been brought to the irreducible minimum.

LARGEST EVER
Today there are 38,074 telephones in service, the greatest total in history and the ratio of complaint is 1.2 per telephone. This ratio of complaint has been constant for the past four years and seems to be as low as it is possible to reduce it.

Introduction of a more rigid system of preventative maintenance, the central office equipment and outside cable plant, elimination of obsolete office equipment are major factors in this success.

A very large measure of the success is due to the loyalty of the telephone staff, and the excellent apprenticeship plan operated within the department.

And now something of the future plans of the department. A total of 10,000 lines of central office equipment will be installed this year and early in 1949.

2,600 NEW LINES
Subscribers' services by the main exchange will have 1,600 new lines this year, and an additional 1,000 in the early part of 1949.

In the north exchange, 600 lines are now being installed. 600 lines will be installed later this year, and 2,000 lines are to be installed during 1949.

Plans for an addition to the north end exchange at 118 avenue and 89 street are being prepared and will be constructed early in 1949.

At the South Side exchange 500 lines have already been installed, and 600 will be installed later this year. Plans call for the installation of 1,000 lines next year.

Progress in the department this year can be gauged by the 1,776 increase in the number of telephones in service since the same period of 1947.

NO SWEEPING
Bylaws are made to be broken, it is the cynical cry of the populace. The most general complaint these days comes from those who get their eyes full of the dust which is taken off their shoe shine by the thoughtless youth sweeping off sidewalks after 8 a.m. There is a bylaw that prohibits such sweeping after the eight o'clock deadline.

BIG INCREASE
Interesting sidelight on increase in construction costs was revealed at the civic block. A survey of buildings for insurance purposes has been in progress. Approval of the arena at the exhibition grounds showed its replacement value at $781,000, and its value for insurance purposes, $546,000. It cost $175,000 to build.

The city's clothing bill for 1948 will run to $51,870. Uniforms and other clothing supplies for the police department will cost $18,020; the fire department, $13,850, and the transit system, $20,000.

CENSUS STILL ON
Civic census is nearing completion. On the basis of completed returns from canvassers it would appear the increase in population will be substantially in excess of 5,000.

Unemployment Shows Increase

Edmonton's unemployment total showed a slight increase during the past week according to W. G. Paterson, head of the National Employment Service here.

The increase from 1,830 to 1,847, was largely due to students seeking employment during the summer holidays, Mr. Paterson said.

Number of unfilled vacancies during the week dropped from 1,005 to 950, according to the past week.

During the past two weeks, Mr. Paterson, attended to the British Columbia to help with the fruit harvest, and another 75 have been sent to help with harvesting in Ontario.

About 2,500 workers from the prairie provinces are wanted in eastern provinces to assist in harvesting, he said.

Farmers Hear Implement Expert

Adjustment of farm tillage implements for the most efficient results, was illustrated to Spruce Grove farmers by experts from the Alberta department of agriculture this week.

An adjustment field day was sponsored by the Spruce Grove local of the United Farmers of Alberta, headed by William Schwindt.

Adjustments were made on tractors and plows by S. C. Acheson, agricultural engineer with the Vermilion school of agriculture, who gave lectures as he proceeded with his work.

At an evening meeting, which followed, Mr. Acheson continued his instruction on the use of implements. He was supported by B. J. Whitbread, Edmonton district agriculturalist.

Auto Accident Has Court Sequel
Joseph Gelsinger, Cherhill, was fined $40 on a charge of negligent driving Friday in city police court.

Charges followed an accident in which Gelsinger's car collided with another driven by Paul Mercier, Legal, at a railroad crossing.

Mercier said he was waiting at the crossing when Gelsinger's car struck the back of his vehicle. James Eckert, Edmonton, who fined $20, and Thomas W. Foran, Edmonton, $25, on speeding charges.

PONOKA READY

Women Up in Arms Over Bearded Faces

By Tommy Graham

"They're growing a new kind of crop" at Ponoka these days... and prospects of an early and full harvest are good.

The "unique crop" is face hair—on whiskers—on you. That's right... folks... men folks that are growing beards down to the pioneer central Alberta towns.

...And, the "mountaineer mania"—much to the chagrin of the ladies—has really been laid on the male citizens of the town and district.

Reason for the Van Dykes, Lord Calverts, Shakespearians, and other beard designs, is the 14th Annual Ponoka Stampede, which will be held on Friday, Thursday and Friday of next week.

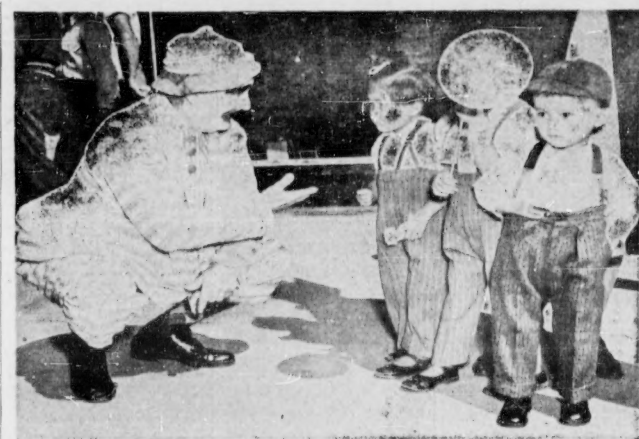

Seems as how two local barbers, Lorne Kirkpatrick and John Richmond, revived an old time custom, said to have been originated in 1861, by the late J. E. Aylward, pioneer resident of the district, as a publicity stunt on behalf of the forthcoming stampede.

Aylward's decree, for all men of the town to grow beards in celebration of any outstanding civic achievement, held sway for some years during the pioneer days.

Prizes were offered for the best "crop," to be decided on the final day of the stampede. Runner-up and third best beard growers will also figure in on the prize.

Some of the members of the "Whiskers Club" was formed, and some 200 businessmen of the town and district pledged themselves to grow beards.

ZANY ANTICS of more than 500 Shriners threw Edmonton's Jasper avenue into complete confusion Saturday when visitors from all over Canada and northern U.S. staged one of the most colorful parades seen in this city. Here an unidentified Shriner, in clown garb, makes small talk with three little Chinese folk who were stranded in centre of the street when parade passed by.

Fast Growth of City Amazes British Peer Here

BOTTLE-WIELDER GETS $40 FINE

A charge of assaulting another man with a bottle, occasioning actual bodily harm, brought a fine of $40 to Mike Robanek, Edmonton, Friday in police court.

Robanek pleaded guilty to striking T. S. Skoreyko at about 1:30 a.m. Sunday at 98 street and 111 avenue.

Skoreyko was taken to hospital where he was treated for head cuts and bruises.

Lawrence Morris, his fixed address, pleaded guilty to assaulting Alice Zimmerman at 103 avenue and 97 street early today.

He was remanded to July 2 for sentence.

Egg Producers Elect Officers

Annual production of 200 eggs per hen is the minimum aimed at by the Record of Performance Poultry Breeders' Association of Alberta.

The group held a two-day meeting at Lacombe last week, attended by almost the entire provincial membership of the organization.

Main theme of the meeting was a discussion of the importance of careful selection on breeding stock to build up large Record of Performance flocks in the province.

The ROP producers came to the conclusion time had arrived when efficiency must be used to the fullest extent to reduce the consumer's cost of living.

Officers for the year were elected. They are: President, W. F. Hughes of Oliver; vice-president, P. Tuninga of Neerlandia; secretary-treasurer, E. Triksa of Edmonton; and directors, W. G. Lyons of Vermilion, D. Dale of Stony Plain, P. Prime of Swallow, and J. West of Lacombe.

E. W. Brewitt of Michichi was elected honorary president.

British capitalists look "favorably" on Canada as an investment field but are handicapped by the dollar situation.

Viscount Chaplain, British financier and Conservative member of the House of Lords, explained the difficulties confronting Old Country investors in an interview here today.

Accompanied by Lady Chaplain, the British peer is paying his first business visit to Canada in 10 years.

Chairman of the Calgary and Edmonton Land Co., Viscount Chaplain recently attended a meeting of the directors in Winnipeg.

He explained that the Calgary and Edmonton Land Co., is just about "through" having disposed of practically all land holdings in Alberta. An English corporation, it is run entirely separate from the Canadian company of the same name that has considerable mineral holdings in the province, he explained.

The C. and E. Land Company constructed the Calgary and Edmonton Railway in 1901, and later sold it to the CPR.

The English land company once owned 1,550,000 acres of land in Alberta, but this is down now to about 150,000 acres.

The Canadian company has recently been assisting Anglo-Canadian and Home Oil Companies in oil exploration and development around Edmonton.

Viscount Chaplain planned to visit the Leduc oil fields and the salt plant near Elk Point before leaving for Jasper and the Banff area on Friday of this week. The C. and E. Company is associated with the salt plant.

"I have nothing specific in view in the way of Canadian investment at this time," he said.

The British peer thinks a large-scale emigration to Canada would relieve the homeland to a certain extent, but thinks it should be well-planned and on a family basis.

"I do not favor sending just all the young people of Britain to Canada," he said.

Viscount Chaplain believes an election tomorrow would be "touch and go" for the Tories.

The British middle class is very tired of restrictions and austerity, he said.

The visitor marvels at the great development in Edmonton since his last visit in 1935.

He paid his first visit to this city in 1935.

Former Fairview Boy Dies in B.C.

NELSON, B.C. June 26.—(CP)—Ernest Norman Mould, 17-year-old former Fairview, Alta., boy died suddenly in hospital here Saturday night after suffering a seizure.

Mould was born in Fairview, and came here four months ago. He was a member of the 111th (Nelson) Anti-Aircraft Battery, and served with the unit in Trail during the flood emergency.

Resides his parents, he is survived by six brothers and five sisters.

Baptists Seek Action Tooust Communism

Plans To Bring DPs To Western Canada

"Because of Communist activities, the need for safeguarding civil liberty has become more acute than any time in our nation's history."

This was stated in the report of the Social Service Committee of the Baptist Union of Western Canada, which is now holding its annual convention in Edmonton.

Social Service Committee also reported that a fund of $15,000 would be established to bring to Western Canada, selected Baptist families among Displaced Persons in Europe.

"Careful screening will be given to the DP families to eliminate such undesirable as Communists," said a Baptist Union spokesman.

ATTACK WRITERS
The report also claimed that the "sports writing fraternity of Canadian newspapers were aiding and abetting professional sports interests in their attempts to break down the traditional observance of Sunday."

Sportswriters were also accused in the report of supporting proposals of questionable moral and economic worth by their attempts to widen the opportunities for race track gambling.

On Saturday, close to 200 delegates assembled at Mount Pleasant Cemetery for a short memorial service for Pioneer and Mrs. McDonald.

The date of the present convention coincides with the 75th anniversary of Pioneer McDonald's founding of the first Baptist mission in Western Canada at Winnipeg.

South Side School Tops

Garneau High School's "Log" yearbook won first prize in the school-yearbook class of the creative writing competition for Alberta schools.

Of the 26 entries were received in the writing competition, which is sponsored by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, in conjunction with the University department of extension, and the Convent School of Fine Arts Alberta Writers' Conference.

Southern Alberta students outnumbered Northern Albertans in the winners list.

Peggy Somerville, of Victoria High School, Edmonton, received third prize in the poetry division of the competition.

Two Vermilion students are on the winners list. John E. Currah won second prize in the poetry contest, and Shirley Davidson won first prize in the short story competition.

The world's largest snakes are said to be the reticulated pythons of the Philippine Islands, measuring up to 30 feet long.

Welfare Documents Could Fill Library

Alberta's three-man Royal Commission investigating provincial welfare conditions is going to have a lot of reading to do before it submits its report of findings.

The commission finished its 67th and last sitting on Saturday, 10 and one-half months since it began hearings last August.

Court reporters have taken enough notes at those 67 hearings to fill about 10 good-sized novels. They have taken a total of 7,300 double-spaced typewritten pages of testimony and cross-examinations. These pages hold close to 2,000,000 words.

About 40 witnesses appeared on witness stand during Commission hearings. Ten of these were called by Alberta government.

But the three Commission members, Chief Justice W. R. Howson, Justice J. Macdonald, and Justice E. B. Feir, will have more than just the 10 volumes of testimony to read before they make their report.

264 EXHIBITS
Other evidence is in the form of 264 exhibits, filed before the Commission during the past 10 months. This evidence includes files of the Conrad case, Dr. Charlotte Whitton's IOBE report on welfare conditions in Alberta, parts of welfare legislation of other Canadian provinces, and complete files of Alberta-born babies.

This last item is a whopper. The cross-border adoption files have been entered as just one of the 264 exhibits. These files, 482

What the cost of the Royal Commission will be to the Alberta government, and therefore to the people of Alberta, cannot be estimated for several weeks yet.

Last April's New Liberty magazine trial, in which Dr. Whitton, Publisher Jack Kent Cooke, and writer Harold Dingman, were freed after being charged with conspiracy to commit libel, was short lived but it cost the government about $7,000.

The New Liberty trial received continuing wide attention.

A partial result of the trial was the recent passage, in the Ottawa House of Commons, of an act whereby trial for libel can only be held in the province in which that libel is published.

What the results will be of the findings of Alberta's Royal Commission will be known by next fall when the Commission's report is published.

SHOPPING GUIDE

'Sew-at-Home' Gals Have Goods Problem

By Bea Thrifty

Serious shortages may have gone by the wayside but household shoppers still have their problems—and they're not all penny-pinching problems either.

It's the "sew-my-own-clothes" housewife who still has basis for complaint.

Although there appears to be a wealth of attractive, practical material in the stores—when you pin your ideas right down you can't find what you want.

You take a quick "look-see" at dress crepes and there is apparently a whole spectrum of colors—but just try and find the color you want.

Plain tafetas just aren't to be had—and there's no definite promise of their appearance, either.

Laces, dress material that is, are inclined to be sleepy and lifeless—yet you pay at least $3.50 a yard.

But you can be sure of finding a good piece of cotton with new qualities of crease resistance and the easiest things in the world to launder.

These can be had for 88c per yard and up.

Food news is always good news and here's a gem for your entertainment file: Strawberry cheese sandwiches—mmm! Good... and eye-catching, too.

Trick is to mash a few strawberries into pineapple cream cheese, spread on dainty rounds of bread—and top with a slice of strawberry, colorful, different—good to eat.

But another tear in our bucket of sorrow is the sad, sad news that the expected decrease in the price of tomatoes just didn't materialize. They're still selling in the vicinity of 60c per pound.

Prices vary from one store to another: from 50c per pound to 85c per pound. And field tomatoes will be another two weeks or so in coming.

But what is nice to know is that celery, dear, lovely, crisp, crunchy celery is selling at reasonable prices. By mid-week the price will be hovering around 20c to 25c per pound.

We couldn't ask for much more in price reduction of lettuce as it is selling across the city at 10c per head.

Had some nice leafy lettuce from our own garden over the week-end. And if your garden is producing—everyone else's must be doing at least equally well.

Plastic picnic sets—cups, saucers, plates, glasses, are going at amazingly low prices this week.

Even if you don't go on many picnics they're ideal for the lake—or even kitchenware.

The cost is considerably less than $5.

With city bylaws governing the watering of gardens, law sprinklers are more than ever "musts" for a successful garden. You can leave the thing all night—so that your backyard plot thrives and makes the most of the time allotted to you for watering.

For department stores there are smart white shortie coats—well-made and styled—selling for $16.95.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Prosaic Husbands Exasperate Wives

A woman writes to this column: "I am barely 40 years old. Still have my complexion and my figure and my sense of humor, although I have been married for 20 years and have five youngsters."

"Now tell me: Do the great majority of husbands grow more or less tired of their wives in a few years, and when a wife reaches 40 should she just be satisfied with a comfortable home and a good shopping ticket, when what she really craves is love and understanding?"

"I mean that what we wives long for is for our husbands to show us the tender love that we had in the early years of married life."

"Should a wife of 20 years never expect anything more than a hurried kiss that is as likely to fall on her back or her right ear, as her lips?"

"What wouldn't I give if my husband would take me in his arms and give me a kiss that had a thrill in it, instead of being just a chore."

"Before we were married my husband never forgot an anniversary, and he knew exactly what my tastes were and the things I would like to have and do."

"Now I have to remind him of my birthday and then he gives a check at me and says he doesn't know what I want."

"Yet we are a happily married couple, as marriage goes, and he never dreams that I am so starved for love as any beggar is for food."

"What's the matter with husbands? Are they just plain dumb that they don't realize that my wife ever gets so old that she doesn't want to be treated like a Lady Love?"

"Or do we wives just expect too much of our husbands? Or do men just naturally crave young women?"

Josephine Lowman today tells how to successfully apply eye cream, as we see Actress Janis Carter doing.

WHY GROW OLD

Pat on Eye Cream Underneath the Eyes

By Josephine Lowman

A reader asks how to apply eye cream. The usual method prescribed is to massage it about the eyes gently, beginning at the upper inside corner and circling about to the lower inside corner. However, I believe that it is much better to put the cream on underneath the eyes because this area is so very tender and there is danger of stretching the skin.

Also, these lines are of the crisscross variety usually and one cannot massage along the line. The deeper lines at the corners of the eyes at a different question. You can profitably massage the cream in along these lines and improve them greatly.

Q: "Does this technique tend to make more hair grow?"

A: No. "I am a teenage girl. I have poor circulation and am very curious about it. Will you please answer some questions for me? Is poor circulation serious? Can it be cured? Should I see a doctor? Will you give me some exercises for it?"

A: A number of things can cause poor circulation. I wonder why you feel that you are subject to it since you have not seen a doctor. Exercise is helpful, but if you have symptoms you are attributing to poor circulation, I advise you to see a physician before you take up a course of exercise.

Q: "I am 19 years of age and my problem is that my left ear protrudes more than my right ear. An upswipe hairdo is becoming to me except that it makes this difference very noticeable."

A: Each night before retiring pull the protruding ear back close to your head and keep it there with adhesive tape. You can use this in the daytime, too, if your hair covers it. Change the point at which the tape is attached often so the skin will not become irritated.

Q: "I am really sick! Recently I let an amateur cut some bangs for me and she cut them too short to do anything with them at all. I cannot even put a permanent in them."

A: Poor you! This is going to be annoying for awhile. If your hair is naturally curly at all you may be able to make little curls in it and pin them with bobby pins. If not, your only hope is hair lacquer which may keep them back as they grow out.

Q: "Do you know of anything which will reduce the fat from the hands and feet? Mine are too plump for the rest of my body. Will real strong epom salts dissolve fat?"

A: No. Epom salts will not dissolve fat. I am afraid I am going to have to let you down because the only way I know to reduce in these spots is by general loss of weight—and from your letter I judge you are not overweight.

You might find this exercise helpful for the hands. Clench your fists hard, feeling the pull of the skin over your knuckles. Now pull your fingers backward—pulling as far back as you can. Repeat about 50 times morning and 50 times at night.

CHIVE DRESSING
¼ cup finely cut chives; 1 cup whipping cream; 1 cup mayonnaise; 2 tablespoons prepared horseradish. Cut up the chives fairly fine with a pair of scissors. Whip the cream until stiff. Mix the mayonnaise, horseradish and chives into the cream very well.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Over-Tired Children Apt To Be Wakeful

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Babies do wake up at night for reasons that are not always explicable to the parents. Children, like adults, may be wakeful when they have been over-stimulated by excitement or rough play. Then the nerves take their toll and sleep is disturbed.

Children are apt to be more wakeful when they are over-tired than when their lives have been peaceful and they have had plenty of rest.

More and more doctors are admitting, these days, that the coming of teeth may be disturbing to the baby. Just at the time when they are due to be cut, there may be enough soreness of the gums, and general irritation, that the child both sleeps and eats poorly.

Sometimes, the baby over-sleeps at his naptime, snoozing on an hour longer than usual. This may please the mother, but she is not so pleased when the baby gets up in the night and is ready to play. Her wonder, then, is whether the baby is hungry and whether she should feed him or not.

If the baby wakens each and every night, then it would be sensible to ask yourself whether the daytime diet is all it should be. A real effort to enrich the formula, to increase the amounts and to enlarge the variety of foods, may be what is needed to end chronic wakefulness at night.

For these chance sleepless periods, for which the mother can't account, it isn't successful just to tell the baby to go to sleep. He won't, if he could, but turns on the light, to furnish him with something to play and then walk out of the room and leave him, works better than to try to force him to go right back to sleep. There is less crying if the parents admit, that, for the moment, he can't sleep, and do something to entertain and soothe him, rather than to leave him in the dark hoping he'll drop off.

Our leaflet No. 38 "Sleeping Habits" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope, with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper. Tomorrow, "Foolish Habits Are Harmless Ones."

Daily Average Hits New High

By Cecil Jackson
Oil production in Alberta continues to set new records according to figures released by the Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board. Average daily production for the week ended June 21 was 31,910 barrels compared with the previous week's all-time high of 30,405 barrels daily. The figures quoted include only oil actually delivered to market by pipeline or truck.

Leduc and Woodbend fields produced 15,049 barrels daily from wells Atlantic No. 3 and 77 other wells producing at 80 per cent of their normal quota. Turner Valley yielded 12,515 barrels daily and an additional 1,846 barrels daily derived from natural gasoline recovery.

Latest figures recorded for the first six days of the previous week show average production 31,110 barrels per day during the month of April. Current yield is probably considerably higher.

55,818 FROM "ROGUE"
Atlantic Leduc No. 3 production averaged 12,000 barrels daily during the week ended May 21. A total of 54,818 barrels was delivered to the pipeline during the week. The remainder of the production was field through Atlantic No. 1 and No. 2.

Since the pipe line began to flow from the oil May 4 around 355,000 barrels of Atlantic No. 3 oil have been delivered to market, 100,000 barrels have been returned to the formation and countless barrels lost due to evaporation and absorption by the ground.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY
Imperial Leduc No. 72, offshoot of Continental No. 2 in the southwest corner of the field has found oil in the D2 zone. Neither Continental No. 2 nor Continental No. 3, a quarter mile west of No. 2, found the D2 developed. Imperial No. 72 drill stem tested the zone between 5,124 and 5,180 feet. Result was a gas blow estimated at 200,000 cubic feet per day and a fluid recovery of 1,620 feet of oil and 180 feet of mud.

Reports from Leduc No. 72 indicate that early abandonment is in store for the Anglo-Canadian-Homesdale and Edmonton Conduits. The well at the Alexis Indian Reserve. The hole was last reported below 5,320 feet searching for the D3 zone of the Leduc field. Indications are that the rig will be moved to the team's second Camrose location during the coming week.

Devonian top at 1,274 feet has been confirmed for Camrose-Leduc belt northwest of the Leduc field. At last report the rig was proceeding to drill at 1,425 feet.

Grain Futures React To Moisture Reports
WINNIPEG, June 28.—(CP)—Oats and barley showed an easier tone for most of the session in the course grains market on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. There was modest selling prompted by more favorable crop reports, including liberal overnight rain in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

There was fair buying attributed to shippers, while hedging pressure was light. There was selling in October rice at 66 to 68 cents. A few commission house orders were noted.

No export of Canadian wheat was indicated. Price of class two wheat, for export to countries other than the United Kingdom, remained unchanged.
